

Indoor groundbreaking Last month's rains failed to dampen the spirits of the 100 seniors and city officials who attended Volunteers of America's official ground breaking ceremony to celebrate the start of construction of the new senior citizen apartment complex. The new facility will open in 1993. Holding the ceremonial shovels are, from left, Councilman Clarence Smith, Victor Elias, president, Elias Construction; L.A. County Supervisor Deane Dana; VOA volunteer Margaret Brown; Councilman Evan Anderson Braude; Mayor Ernie Kell, and VOA chairman Ron Cedillos.
