Wilson makes selections
for CSU board of trustees

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Pete Wilson has announced the appointment of two new trustees to the California State University board.

Ronald Cedillos, 41, of Huntington Beach, is a Republican and president of Long Beach-based Cedillos Testing Co., which serves the commercial and military aerospace industries. His appointment requires Senate confirmation.

Bernard Goldstein, 55, of San Carlos, is a Democrat. He holds a chair in the department of physiology and behavioral biology at San Francisco State University, where he also is acting director of research. His appointment does not require Senate confirmation.
